

Illingworth Research Group crowned winners of Cheshire North East's Business of the Year Award

13NOV2019

Illingworth Research Group is proud to receive this award acknowledging our unique service offering and what it provides within the local community and across the globe, as well as our financial performance, growth and the future.

Judges of the award had commented on Illingworth Research's impressive financials and growth over the past three years. Perhaps more importantly to the company judges also appreciated the benefit of the service to patients with patient quotes highlighting this.

Announcing the winner, the judging panel stated Illingworth Research Group had “demonstrated an approach that was transformative for both its customer base and the business itself. Outstanding financial performance, they surpassed all their targets. With a really big focus on recruitment both nationally and internationally and growth of new business into international markets. They have demonstrated a really strong focus on sustainability and a strong strategy for continued future growth.”

CEO, John Illingworth commented following the prize giving: “this feels like a coming of age for the company and it makes us realise how far we have come. The team continue to be fantastic and are the future of the company as it develops and grows.”

Illingworth Research are incredibly grateful and honoured to have received such an award and hope it is the first of many in the future.
